

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A hypodermic needle includes a hollow tube having an angled end with respect to a longitudinal axis of the tube, the end having an opening surrounded by an external peripheral rim. At least a portion of the external peripheral rim is beveled back at least 25%, to form an internal beveled surface..

5

09/24/2004 10:04:10 AM